Lottery Used For T. U. Tickets

A lottery system will be used for the distribution of the 1044 student tickets that the University has received for the Bowling Green-Toledo basketball game at the Toledo University Field House, Feb. 28, if more than this number of requests is made for the tickets. The Athletic Committee, at a meeting Saturday morning, decided on this plan which was recommended by the Student Senate.

All students who are interested in obtaining tickets for this game should deposit their Ac cards and 75 cents at the ticket office in the Men's Gym between 8 and 5 Monday, Feb. 23. This will be the only day that orders will be accepted. Monday evening, if necessary, the drawing will take place which will be open to the public and supervised by six members of the student senate.

Wednesday, Feb. 25, students will pick up their Ac cards and tickets if their number has been drawn. The 75 cents will be refunded to those students whose numbers are not drawn. These student tickets are all reserved and those students wishing to sit together should pick up their tickets at the same time.

When the Ac card is deposited at the ticket office, the student will receive a card he must fill out. The card will be used for the drawing and he will receive a stub which he must turn in when he picks up his tickets.

Married veterans will only be entitled to one ticket for each Ac card instead of two as before. Students are requested to check next week's paper for any change in these plans.

150 tickets are available to the general public. These ticket orders will be handled by mail only. Orders may be dispatched at the post office anytime after noon Sunday. Anyone sending their order before then will lose their priority. Orders should be accompanied by check or money order payable to Don Cunningham, ticket manager. Price of each ticket is $1.75. Orders must include a 25 cent charge for registered mail fee.

Art Classes Announced

Crafty collegians will be signing up for art hobby classes which the Art Club is sponsoring Saturday mornings from 9 to 11 in the Fine Arts Bldg. Meetings are tentatively scheduled to start February 21, sponsor Karl Richards of the University art faculty has announced.

Art Club members will be assisted by advanced art students in the field of education in the projects which the group will undertake. Classes will be planned according to the interests of the students enrolled. Grade and high school groups are also being formed.

The fee for the eight-weeks period is four dollars, plus a small laboratory fee to cover the cost of materials. Students interested in the art hobby group should see Mr. Richards in the Fine Arts Bldg.

Prout Names Architects For Buildings

Architects have been selected for four new building projects, according to Dr. Frank J. Prout. Peterson, Huffman, and Barber of Toledo will draft the plans for the additional Speech Bldg. and assist Mr. Ramey on the new Science Bldg. Sims, Cornelius, and Schooley will draft plans for the new Fine Arts Bldg; and John Paul Jones, Cary, and Millar, lead-heating engineers, for the new heating plant.

Last June the state appropriated $300,000 for the new boiler plant, but construction will not be completed for at least two years.

Two of the boilers now in use were installed in 1924 when there were only eight buildings on campus. A third boiler was installed last September to carry the added load in emergency weather. The third boiler was defective and could not be used when the cold wave came which left only two boilers for the increased building load. The load was too heavy and the second boiler failed.

Heating experts were called in, tubes were replaced in the third boiler, and it is now operating efficiently. By noon this Saturday the second boiler will be repaired, and all three boilers will be in use.

During the heating emergency, the two boilers in the Commons were used for additional heat.

journalism students

All students enrolled in journalism 206 and 306 will meet at 7 tonight in room 315A. Separate meetings of the Key and Bee Gee News staffs will be held immediately after and all interested students are asked to attend.

Press Club and T. U. Honorary Sponsor Joint Basketball Trophy

John Fay, president of Press Club, and Dan Blough, president of the Toledo honorary, discuss the "peace pipe."

When Bowling Green State University and the University of Toledo resume athletic relations again after 12 years, in the basketball game Feb. 28, at the Toledo field house, the traditional rivalry between the two schools will be uppermost in the minds of both.

To further the spirit of this renewed competition, a six foot, two inch peace pipe has been constructed, under the co-sponsorship of the Bowling Green Press Club and Alpha Phi Gamma, the national Journalism honorary at TU, to be held by the champion of each year's cage contest.

The yearly scores will be inscribed on small silver plates and placed on the plain bowl of the pipe, which stands 14 inches high.

After considerable research, a carpenter at the Owens-Illinois plant at Toledo built the smokable pipe from five pieces of pine. The stem, four and a half inches in diameter, is decorated and carved in Indian fashion and painted in the BG-TU school colors.

The pipe will first be shown during the half of the Feb. 28 game and will be given to this year's winner at the end of the game.

This trophy has the approval of both athletic and administrative officials of the two schools and it is hoped it will achieve the status of such trophies as the little brown jug and the old oaken bucket.

Plans for the pipe were begun a month ago at a dinner meeting in Toledo, attended by the Bowling Green committee from the Press Club, composed of Bill Day, Libby Earnest, and Barbara Schlatter. Present for Toledo University were: Dan Blough, Ralph Drescher, and Margaret Botzenhart.

Disabled Vets Given Extension

Disabled veterans may continue educational or on-job training courses longer than the usual four years if necessary to attain their vocational objectives under provisions of Public Law 16.

VA officials explained the time-extension provision is applicable in cases where veterans are so severely disabled that no course of training would restore them to employability in four years. Also, it applies to veterans who lose time in their courses because of their health or other circumstances beyond their control.

Application for courses of more than four years should be made through the VA regional office which has the veteran's records.

Veterans are not required to pay attorneys or agents for representing them in monetary claims against the Veterans Administration, VA said today in answer to numerous recent inquiries.

Any agent or attorney who charges or attempts to charge any veteran for such services is subject to penal provisions of the law in addition to loss of his accreditation, VA said.

Williams Gets New Dietician

Miss Eleanor E. Hruby has assumed a position as instructor in the home economics department and dietitian at Williams Hall.

A native of Cleveland, Miss Hruby came to Bowling Green after having done graduate work at the University of Washington in Seattle. She plans to return to Washington and complete her graduate work this summer.

Miss Hruby will conduct laboratory classes in Organization and Management, Quantity Cookery, and School Lunch Room Management. She previously acted as director of food service at Kent State and as head dietitian at Mount Union College in Alliance.

Student Senate Passes New Parking Rules

Parking behind the men's and women's gym and the natatorium will be prohibited effective tomorrow evening.

The moving cars are not only a danger to students hurrying to classes, but are a fire hazard when parked.

The Student Senate decided on this action last Monday night and a committee was appointed to further investigate the parking situation on the campus.

With The Falcons

by T. J. Loomis, Jr.

AID FOR THE ATHLETES

T. J. Loomis, Jr.

Recent transfers of promising BGSU athletes to other colleges have brought up a question that has puzzled Falcon wellwishers for some time. With nothing to offer, how long will it be before the Falcon athletic department is unable to attract enough high caliber players here to maintain top competitive standards? In this era when so many schools openly aid varsity men over the financial rough spots, Bee Gee is at what may be a disastrous disadvantage.

Subsidization was once a much hushed-up "necessary evil." Then, in the period just before the war, a wide-spread campaign was carried on attempting to completely curtail the award of athletic scholarships and other "assists." During the last few years, however, a new outlook has prevailed.

The entire practice has been brought out in the open. University authorities have rightly acknowledged and defended their prerogative of awarding scholarships on the basis of ability in sports. As a result, the tendency today is toward the legalizing and subsequent standardization of help that is offered.

By permanently setting up a scale or set of "sanity codes" in different sectors and conferences throughout the country boys would receive similar aid at any college in which they enroll. This, the theory is, is the only way to eliminate the cut-throat bidding for and "stealing" of stars.

Bowling Green, unfortunately, is lagging far behind the times in all aspects of this problem. Aside from some free lodgings in the gym and the huts, little is done for our players. There is nothing more beneficial to the name of a university than publicity derived by a clean-playing, big-time basketball or football team. There is no one more deserving than a man who devotes approximately four hours a day to a sport which can become more like a job than a game—and maintains his scholastic proficiency. Yet, the Falcons do not even get free training-table food during the season when they are active.

Athletics is the one short cut route to making Bowling Green a school ranked high in the minds of people across the nation. We cannot afford to stand idly by, watching the inevitable drop of prestige commensurate with the retention of a "Simon-pure" attitude.

GARDEN BID STILL POSSIBLE??

The basketball team, which in an early season statement Coach Harold Anderson rated the best he had ever coached, has faltered somewhat and even Andy seems to be at a loss to explain what has happened to his young squad of potential greats. The Falcons have shown many flashes of championship ball, but their play has been inconsistent all season.

Theories advanced attempting to explain the lapses in form are too numerous to list. No one can say for sure what is wrong. Indeed, all five defeats were at the hands of "up" clubs on a "hot" night. The fact remains that the string has run out for the Orange and Brown—no more games may be dropped.

The individual personality of Anderson, himself, is a factor to consider. Garden authorities are high on the Falcon mentor—last year B.G. nearly went East after dropping seven games. New York newspapers have contained many favorable mentions of Bowling Green this year. The fans like to watch a team that features the slam-bang, fast break type of play, and this gate angle is always considered in handing out bids. Yes, completing the schedule with a string of impressive victories might edge the Orange and Brown into the Gotham arena after all.

Cagers Meet Boston, Syracuse, and Kent State

Stan Weber drops in a two-pointer as BG stops Dayton 71 to 68 Friday night.

Two more teams with mediocre records, which could provide the same stubborn opposition as Dayton, will be encountered by Bowling Green on foreign courts this week. Tomorrow Coach Harold Anderson's cagers meet American International at Springfield, Mass., but the toughest games will be at Syracuse Saturday and with Kent State at the Toledo Field House Monday.

Sports in Shorts

Congratulations to Miss Evelyn Lockman, the Physical Education Staff, and everyone who helped make the Dance Workshop program a huge success.

Kathy Arnold

Miss Gertrude Eppler, chairman of the physical education department wishes to express "special thanks" to Dr. Prout, who made it possible to hold the workshop at Bee Gee; to Mrs. Lee Z. Hafkin and Paul Jones for sending out publicity releases; to John Barber for printing programs and handbills; to Mrs. Mildred Wright for planning meals for faculty guests at the Student Union; and to all students and faculty for their fine cooperation.

Badminton Club

A future in Badminton will be in the making tonight, for that's when the open club will hold its first business meeting.

Anyone interested in joining the club is urged to drop in—Room 107, Women's Bldg. at 7 p.m. and help get the year's program thoroughly talked about and on the way. President Pris Powers says it's important.

Cygnets, junior members of the Swan Club, should report to the Nat tonight at 6:30. Miss Iris Andrews requests that all Cygnets be present.

Falcons Place Second In Team Offense

The Bowling Green State University cage squad fared well in this week's national basketball statistical release as compiled by the national collegiate athletic bureau.

Not only did the Falcons pick off third place in team offensive play with 72.3 game average, behind Rhode Island and North Carolina State, but took over second place after Georgia in field goal shooting with 531 of their 1481 tries counting up a .359 percentage mark. Georgia sported a .369 average.

Rifle Club Meets Tonight

The Rifle Club will meet Wednesday evening at 8 in room 400 Ad. Bldg. All members are urged to attend as officers will be elected and plans made for second semester activities.

Both men and women are urged to attend the meeting as positions are open on both men and women's rifle teams. The range in the P.A. basement will be open five nights a week for club members practice from 6 to 9. This will give all members a chance to fire.

During the rest of the season, the Men's team will compete against such teams as West Point, Annapolis, Dartmouth, Carnegie Tech, and Yale. The women's team has matches against UCLA, Ohio State, and Vassar.

Wrestlers Lose To Waynesburg

BG's wrestling team absorbed its fourth defeat in five meets Monday night when they fell to Waynesburg College, 24 to 5, in the Men's Gym before a crowd of 600.

Ray Florian, Falcon grappler of the 165 pound class, won a decision over Mark Selman for three of the BG points. Jack Woodland wrestled to a 2-2 draw with Steve Yourchik in the 175 pound group.

The Pennsylvanians proved to be shifty, elusive, and well-experienced on offensive and defensive. George Fuller, 136, won a decision over Carmel Bonito Falcon captain, for Bonito's first defeat of the season.

The Falcon matmen, coached by Bob Leiman, take to the road this Friday. They meet Western Reserve Friday afternoon at 4 p.m. in Cleveland. Saturday a match is scheduled with Edinboro State Teachers College at Edinboro, Pa.

American International fields a team averaging about 6'1" topped by the 6'3" co-captain Wayne Jones, who is the Ace's rebound specialist. The other captain, Buck Grumoli is a 6'1" guard and is a defensive genius. The shortest player, at six foot even, Burt Gibby is listed as the center. In order to counter the height of the Falcons in the pivot position, however, the fancy-faking Gibby will probably go to forward with the taller, Bob Tourtellette in the pivot. Ed Koiser, who has scored 300 points in each of the past two seasons, will be at the other forward.

Syracuse with its very fast brand of ball and an all-American in the lineup will prove a tough foe on its own floor. Although he has been hampered with injuries this season, Bill Babor is still the kingpin on the Syracuse roster and holds the school's individual scoring record of 409 points in one season. His 36 points in one game is another record.

The Bowling Green freshman basketball team will meet the University of Toledo freshman squad here tonight, at 8. These two teams met once before at Toledo in the field house with the Falcons coming out on top 67 to 48 after a close first half.

In the pivot, Syracuse has 6'8" Ray Newell who will prove dangerous to Bowling Green under the baskets. Another star, averaging 16 points a game for the Orange, is the 5'10" Ed Stickle.

Monday's affair at the Toledo field house will be a thriller. Kent, a perennial stumbling block for the Falcons, has an unimpressive record of nine victories and five defeats, but is one of those hot and cold teams capable of being fired up to unbelievable heights for this tilt. Three Kent victories have come at the expense of Youngstown College and Mt. Union has taken their measure twice.

Although he has not played as much this season as last, when he set a scoring record for the Blue Streaks, Fred Klaisner will probably start the game at forward because of his height. This 6'4" dead-eye averaged 12.2 points per game last year as a freshman. Jerry Amico, a newcomer, will be at the other forward. He is 6'2".

Kent's highest scorer to date, Leroy Thompson plays in the pivot position. He is 6'3" and is said to be excellent on rebounds, although towering Falcon pivot men may cramp his style somewhat. Guard Bill Sudeck, although a short 5'9", has been mentioned on two previous all-Ohio teams and held the Kent scoring record until Klaisner shattered it last season. The other guard, Dale Haverstock is the team's defensive stalwart and set shot threat.

Swan Club Meets Monday

Regular meetings of the Swan Club will be held on Monday evenings at 7 in the Natatorium. The Cygnets will meet at 6:30 on Wednesday evenings in the pool.

Bowling Green Edges Dayton Loses To Xavier and W. Kentucky

DAYTON

Returning to their home floor, the Falcons barely edged out a determined Dayton team 71-68. In the most exciting home game of the season, Bowling Green passed the visitors in the final minutes of play.

Two experimental rules were employed in the game. The first being that all jump balls be brought to the nearest circle and the second being that three fouls be issued per half. If the player received three fouls in the first half he had to retire for the remainder of the half but he could return in the second half. If he received three fouls in the second half he was through for the entire game.

The Falcons began the game by forging out in front 5-1 but Dayton quickly caught and passed them. Ginn paced the visitors during this time, while the Falcons lost the services of Mac Otten. The new foul rule cost him eligibility early in the half. The Dayton five went on to pile up a 33-27 lead at half time.

The first half showed much sloppy play with the Bowling Green team suffering heavily because of their inability to sink foul shots. Stan Weber played a fine floor game while Otten scored 7 points before becoming ineligible.

Early in the second half the Falcons caught the visitors and from that point the lead shifted back and forth for the remainder of the game. Red Speicher played his usual aggressive game and at one point sank five consecutive points. Red succeeded in doing the one thing that most of his teammates failed to do, make foul shots.

Leo Kubiak sank some amazing baskets and completed the game as high scorer with 20 points. Ginn was high man for Dayton with 18 points. Along with Ginn, West played outstanding ball for Dayton.

W. KENTUCKY

A three game road trip came to a disastrous end last Saturday night when the Bowling Green Falcons dropped their second straight game in two nights, this time to highly touted Western Kentucky 66-52. BG had previously defeated the Hilltoppers 75-64 on the Bowling Green court.

The first half was a nip and tuck affair as BG and Western Kentucky battled on even terms. After a free throw by the home team, BG took the lead 4-1. The Hilltoppers came roaring back to capture a 6-4 lead. The rest of the half followed that same pattern. Chuck Share, who played one of his greatest ball games, stayed in with the second team, as the half-time score ended in Kentucky's favor 29-27.

With the second half at its midpoint, the Falcons trailed 42-43, but then big Chuck fouled out and the Hilltoppers pushed ahead. BG only scored two more buckets after Share left the game.

Two many fouls were again a major factor in the game as 27 were called against the Falcons, and only 16 against the home club. BG converted 12 of these and W. Kentucky 20.

Share led both teams in the scoring with 17 points. Weber broke into the double column also with 11. Four men scored over ten for the Kentuckians, and this seemed to take the load off one man.

XAVIER

Bowling Green's high flying Falcons were halted in overtime last Wednesday evening 51-49, before more than 5,000 fans at Xavier field house in Cincinnati. The loss, four against 17 wins occurred at the foul line, as the Musketeers connected for 17 out of 23 attempts, while the Falcons could gather but five out of 12 charity tosses.

BG captured a five point lead in the middle of the second half when field goals by Chuck Share and Red Speicher narrowed X's lead down to one point. Another goal by Mac Otten, and two by Stan Weber put them ahead 41-36. Xavier pulled up, and the game ended in a 45-45 deadlock.

With two minutes gone in the five minute overtime, Chuck Korb, Musketeer guard, sank a layup, and followed with a free throw. Share narrowed the lead to 48-47, but another goal and free throw put Xavier ahead 51-47. After Mac Otten tipped in BG's final bucket, the Musketeers froze the ball until the final whistle sounded.

Share led the Falcons with 14 points, and he was followed by Weber with 13. Sloppy ball handling, and inaccuracy at the foul line led to the defeat as Bowling Green out-scored the Musketeers 44-34 on field goals alone. Bee Gee had previously beaten Xavier 54-36 at Bowling Green.

WHY I smoke Chesterfield
(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I smoke Chesterfields because I know the kind of tobacco that's in them and I like their flavor and mildness."
"Chesterfield is in the market for the yellow, mellow, ripe tobacco. We farmers here know that. It's good tobacco."
